Start your adventure by heading to the Glasgow Cathedral, which served as the atmospheric setting for the infamous L'Hopital des Anges scenes. Explore the magnificent architecture and let your imagination transport you back to the 18th century as you wander through the cathedral's Gothic interior.

Next, make your way to the stunning Pollok Country Park, featured as the backdrop for the fictional Castle Leoch. This sprawling estate boasts magnificent gardens, serene woodlands, and even a herd of majestic Highland cows. Take a leisurely stroll through the park's charming pathways and envision the characters' lives within the castle walls.

Explore the Real Highland Life

The Outlander series perfectly captures the awe-inspiring beauty of the Scottish Highlands, and although the majority of the show was filmed in other locations, Glasgow has its own hidden gems that offer a taste of the Highland experience.

Head to the picturesque Loch Lomond and The Trossachs National Park, just a short drive from Glasgow, to witness the breathtaking landscapes that will transport you to the world of Claire and Jamie. The park's dramatic mountains, pristine lochs, and enchanting forests provide the perfect backdrop for adventure and exploration.

Take a boat trip on Loch Lomond, the largest inland stretch of water in Great Britain, and soak in the tranquil atmosphere that inspired Diana Gabaldon's novels. Hike through the park's trails and witness the remarkable beauty that unfolds at every turn. From cascading waterfalls to hidden glens, this is where nature lovers will find their utopia.

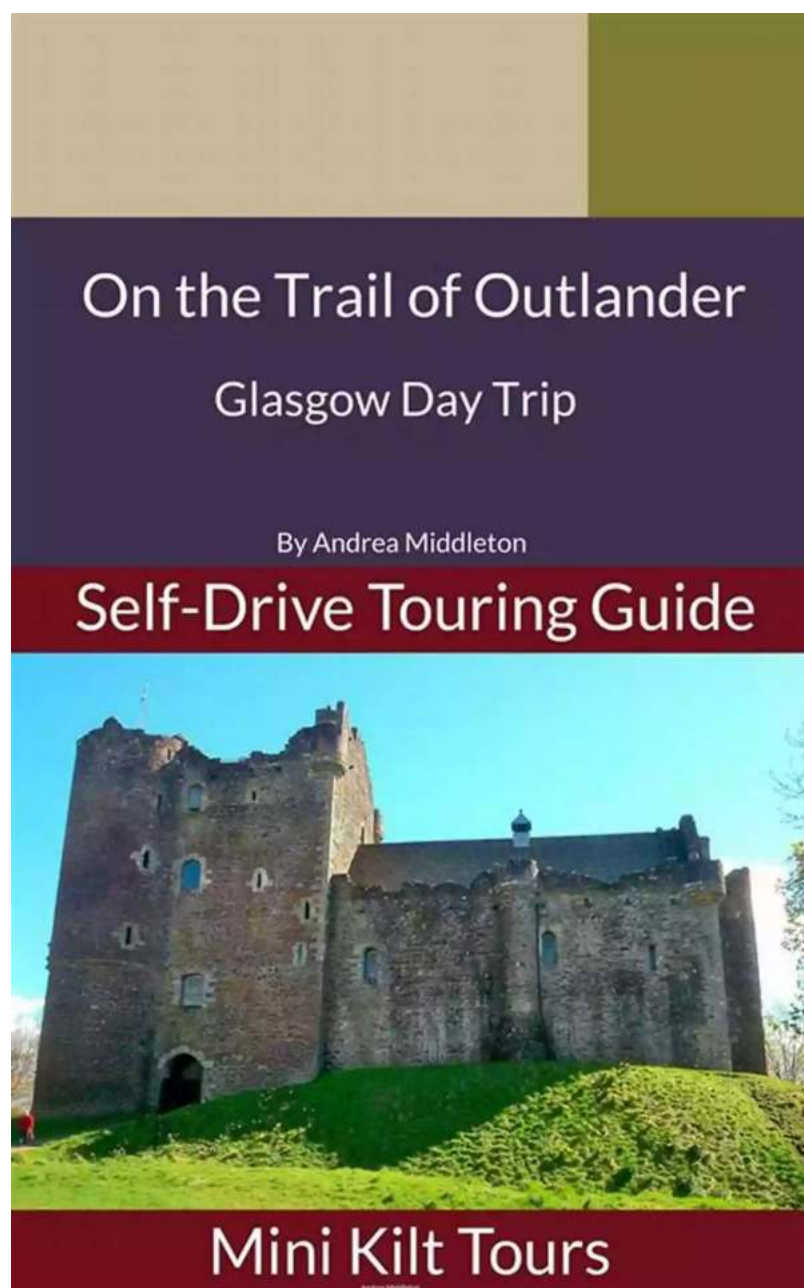

Indulge in the Outlander Culture

No trip would be complete without a taste of the local culture and cuisine. Glasgow's vibrant food and drink scene offers the perfect opportunity to savor traditional Scottish dishes and immerse yourself in the Outlander culture.

Make a stop at a traditional Scottish pub and sample some haggis, a dish made of sheep's offal, onions, spices, and oats, traditionally encased in the sheep's stomach. Don't be deterred by its description; haggis is a beloved Scottish staple that you should embrace during your visit.

Complete your epic day trip with a visit to The Lighthouse, Scotland's Centre for Design and Architecture. This iconic building offers stunning panoramic views of Glasgow and is a must-visit attraction for any architecture lover. Climb up to the viewing platform and be awe-struck by the city's beauty that has inspired countless artistic creations.
