I intend not to leave out a single detail of my account. While my memory is still fully functional, I want the readers of today and the readers of tomorrow to read and see my encounter.

Nor will I make this encounter into a fictional best-selling novel of which I could certainly do. I am merely reporting the facts of what I was privileged to be shown and welcomed aboard by our distant universe space explorers.

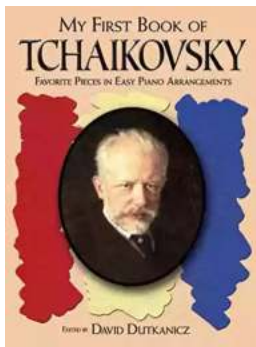

I do however hope earth's space explorers are able to glean vital information and think of the different technologies from the encounter. What I saw impressed me greatly and made a lasting imprint in my mind.

We are not alone in the universe of stars.
